Analytical skills for reading are valuable skills to foster in our learners . They cultivate independent critical thinking and help students enjoy reading more. Hence an activity on 'Critical Appreciation of Poem' was held by Mount Olympus School , Gurugram, for the learners of grade IX on 14th December 2020 , through virtual platform .

In the activity, the learners used the poetic techniques to help them evaluate and analyze a poem in order to have its better understanding. They read the poem 'Road Not Taken' by Robert Frost more than once to get a clear idea of what the poet is trying to say. They tried to grasp the meaning of its words, its rhyme scheme, figures of speech, the genre, the context and other elements .To write the critical appreciation, first they wrote about the poet and the poem, followed by the gist and the theme. The poetic devices and the symbolism were also described by the students. They also showed their creativity by artistically decorating their work.

The activity was interesting and informative and relished by the learners . They performed the activity with unparalleled zeal .
